in late nineteenth century mexico the mexican populace was fascinated with the country s booming railroad network newspapers and periodicals were filled with art poetry literature and social commentaries exploring the symbolic power of the railroad as a symbol of economic political and industrial modernization the locomotive served to demarcate a nation s status in the world however the dangers of locomotive travel complicated by the fact that mexico s railroads were foreign owned and operated meant that the railroad could also symbolize disorder death and foreign domination in the civilizing machine michael matthews explores the ideological and cultural milieu that shaped the mexican people s understanding of technology intrinsically tied to the porfiriato the thirty five year dictatorship of gen porfirio díaz the booming railroad network represented material progress in a country seeking its place in the modern world matthews discloses how the railroad s development represented the crowning achievement of the regime and the material incarnation of its mantra order and progress the porfirian administration evoked the railroad in legitimizing and justifying its own reign while political opponents employed the same rhetorical themes embodied by the railroads to challenge the manner in which that regime achieved economic development and modernization as matthews illustrates the multiple symbols of the locomotive reflected deepening social divisions and foreshadowed the conflicts that eventually brought about the mexican revolution mexican cinema has largely been overlooked by international film scholars because of a lack of english language information and the fact that spanish language information was difficult to find and often out of date this comprehensive filmography helps fill the need arranged by year of release and then by title the filmography contains entries that include basic information film and translated title production company genre director cast a plot summary and additional information about the film inclusion criteria a film must be a mexican production or co production feature length one hour or more silent films excepted fictional documentaries and compilation films are not included unless the topic relates to mexican cinema some docudramas and films with recreated or staged scenes are included and theatrically released or intended for theatrical release en el corazón de aztlán es una antología poética que trasciende las fronteras de la imaginación es la búsqueda y el reencuentro con un pasado histórico eternizado y un presente hostil que limitan y obstruyen el máximo desarrollo físico mental y espiritual del ser humano además es un reto a la inercia y a las distracciones de la vida diaria es un llamado a la reafirmación de la identidad del chicano y el mexicano el poeta nos lleva desde las aulas a las calles del encierro a la intemperie de las ciudades superpobladas a la soledad de los desiertos de la bondad a la malicia de la sumisión a la rebeldía de la inactividad a la movilización de la soledad a la solidaridad y trata la constante migración del mexicano en búsqueda de sus orígenes y la tierra prometida
